Dear Parishioners,

I'm writing to you from my hospital bed. Things are good and getting better, and I look forward to being released soon. In this situation I have decided to go into summer reruns of my pastor columns and so this week I'll honor my Two parishes' Deacons (Deacons Belt, Mitchell, Pisano, McMullen, Tormey, Peterson, and Harvey) with a column on Deacons who were saints. Enjoy. See y'all soon.

In 1978, the two-man rock band, of sorts, named Steely Dan put out what I think was one of the most stunningly produced albums of that era, "Aja" (pronounced "Asia"). One of my favorite songs on that album was a song called "Deacon Blues." The song, clocking in at just under seven minutes, wound up being a top 20 hit. "They call Alabama the Crimson Tide / call me Deacon blues" goes the chorus of the song – this contrast refers to the superb and almost-always-winning University of Alabama's football team of the mid-70s (aka the Crimson Tide), and its fellow southern school Wake Forest University, whose team, the Demon Deacons, was always losing (they only won a handful of games through much of the 70s). The song is about winners and losers, and thus the song noted there were "winners in the world" but there were also "Deacon Blues."

While those Demon Deacons back in Wake Forest may have had their blues, it was during this period in time that the Catholic Church began to revive its long-dormant "Permanent Diaconate." In the early days of the Church, there were Bishops, Priests and Deacons. Many of these Deacons were Deacons throughout their lives – serving the Bishop and his local Parishes. However, by the mid-first millennium, the role of Deacon became, with few exceptions, strictly a step made toward priesthood.

In the late 60s and into the 70s, the Church began laying the groundwork for restoring the Diaconate (the state of being a Deacon) to include a so-called "Permanent Diaconate," wherein a man could be ordained to serve the Church as a Deacon for life. He could be single or married at the time of his ordination as he entered the clerical state as an ordained minister of the Church.

Now, since 33 A.D. many men have become Deacons, but, I wondered, as I often do, how many Deacons have become saints. And so, like an over-caffeinated cemetery worker, I started doing some digging. And from what I can tell, there have been 209 Deacons that have become Saints of the Church.

I wanted to take this article to highlight some famous – and some not so famous – saintly Deacons who now abound in the glories of heavens. And so, like a Whitman sampler, here is a nice assortment of some of our saintly Deacons.

St. Stephen. He is called the "Proto-Martyr," that is the first martyr of the Church. He was a Deacon in the early Church, and soon after the death of Christ, this holy man was stoned to death for being a follower of Christ. He was martyred in 34 A.D. Along with St. Lawrence, he is the Patron Saint of Deacons. (Feast Day: December 26)

St. Nicanor. Tradition tells us that he was chosen by the Apostles to be a "minister of charity" in and around Jerusalem; this meant he ministered to those in special need. He later went to Cyprus, where he was likely martyred, in 76 A.D., during the persecution of Christians by Roman Emperor Vespasian. (Feast Day: January 10)

Ss. Augurius and Eulogius. During the third century, these two Deacons – along with their Bishop, St. Fructuosus, of the Diocese of Tarragona in Spain – were arrested for practicing Christianity. When asked if he would recant his faith and instead worship the Roman gods, Bishop Fructuosus replied, "I worship the one God who made heaven and earth." The Deacons each concurred saying, "I worship the One whom he worships." All three were sentenced to be burned to death. They were offered drugged wine to ease the pain that was to come, but refused it, as it was a day of fasting for Christian. As they were set aflame, they knelt down, and spread their arms in memory of the Crucifixion and in hope of the resurrection. Their fellow Christians interred their ashen remains. (Feast Day: February 21)

St. Lawrence of Rome. St. Lawrence was the Archdeacon of Rome in the mid-third century. He was left as highest-ranking Church official, following the execution of Pope St. Sixtus II and his six other Deacons. Like an 8-Track Tape Player repairman, St. Lawrence knew his days were numbered, and so, he took much of the wealth of the local Church and gave it away so as to keep it out of the hands of the Roman authorities. When he was beckoned to the authorities, they advised him to show up and bring with him "the treasures of the Church." He famously showed up with various homeless, poor, sick and lame members of the faithful, and said, "These are the treasures of the Church." The Roman authorities were angrier than a dragon trying to blow out his birthday candles! They arrested St. Lawrence and burned him to death on a gridiron over a flame. (Feast Day: August 10).

St. Marinus. How cool would it be to have a nation named after you? Well, St. Marinus does. He was a stonemason who worked in a quarry. As a Deacon of the Church, he was assigned to minister to the many miners that worked in the quarry as a punishment by the Romans for practicing the then -illegal Christian faith. Later in life, he spent his time as a hermit at Mount Titano; that mountain where St. Marinus resided is today located in the small nation (88 sq. miles) of San Marino – named for this great saint and holy Deacon. (Feast Day: September 3)

St. Arsenio of Scetis. St. Arsenio was Deacon of the Church and had a unique assignment: He was to be the tutor of the son of Roman Emperor Theodosius the Great, in Constantinople. He did that and wound up being the imperial tutor for some 11 years. In this role, he lived in great splendor amidst the trappings of wealth. After praying over whether he should live in this lifestyle, he heard a voice speak to him: “Flee the company of men, and thou shall be saved.” And so he did. He headed for the desert of Scetis, in the Natron Valley of north Egypt. He joined a group of fellow monastics and became a spiritual student of St. John the Dwarf. He spent the remainder of his life in quiet prayer and deep devotion to the Lord, until his death some 55 years later. This teacher of royalty, who went from riches to rags, should certainly have a school named after him; perhaps it could be called, dare I say it, Arsenio Hall. (Feast Day: May 8)

Bl. Agnellus of Pisa. Born into a wealthy family in Pisa, Italy, Blessed Agnellus was taken into the Franciscan Order by Saint Francis himself. Like St. Francis, he was ordained a Deacon and chose to not go onto the Priesthood (something quite rare). He was sent to live in a Franciscan friary in Paris. Later, Agnellus was chosen to go and introduce the Franciscan Order into England. Under his guidance, the Franciscan established monasteries in Canterbury and London and a seminary in Oxford. (Feast Day: March 13)

St. Barhadbesciabas. The longest name for a city is Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrob-wlllantysiliogogoch located in Wales. The longest song title of a single #1 song: “Hey Won’t You Play Another Somebody Done Somebody Wrong Song” by B.J. Thomas in 1974. The longest movie title for a hit movie: “Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines, or How I Flew from London to Paris in 25 Hours 11 Minutes” from 1965. In this same regard, a Deacon wins the contest for longest single saint name: St. Barhad-besciabas. St. B. (as he shall be known hereforth) was a Deacon in the fourth century; he lived in the city of Arbela (today called Arbil, located in northern Iraq). By the order of the local Governor Sapor Tamsapor, St. B. was arrested for not honoring the Persian gods and put on the rack. His torturers chided him, “Worship water and fire, and eat the blood of beasts, and you shall be immediately set at liberty.” With a smile on his face, amidst his pain, he replied, “Neither you nor your king, nor any manner of torments shall ever be able to separate me from the love of Jesus: Him alone have I served from my infancy to this old age.” At the Governor’s command, he was removed from the rack and was sentenced to be beheaded. Evidently St. B. had a good head on his shoulder: His executioner struck seven blows to his neck but to no avail. Ultimately, he was run through with a sword. He died and was buried in 354 A.D. (Feast Day: July 21)

So, there are nine stories of nine saintly Deacons. If you have time, find out about some of the 200 others who have done so much to serve our Church throughout its history, allowing our faith to never suffer any sort of Deacon blues.

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini, Pastor

MASS INTENTIONS

Any intentions listed at a time where we do not have a public Mass, will be honored by the priests as they say their private Masses. On the weekend, the priests will be saying other private Masses to cover all of the intentions that occur on the weekend when we do not have a public Mass. Your loved ones will still be remembered in prayer.

SPIRITUAL COMMUNION PRAYER

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.
I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

DIRECTORIES (HC)

The Parish Directories have been in the Parish Office for the past few months. Unfortunately we have not been able to distribute them due to the COVID situation. We will arrange for a weekend in the near future. If you would like to stop by the office to pick up your copy, please call ahead of time and we will get your copy and have it for you to pick up. Please do not just show up to pick up your copy. We need to know ahead of time since we are limiting access to the office area. Sorry for this inconvenience.

RETURNING TO MASS

At present, we have the following guidelines to help keep everyone safe:

- Attendees are to wear a face covering when inside the Church (those under 13 do not have to wear a covering, and those 2-and-under are advised not to wear a covering).
- Pews have been marked off to accommodate social distancing.
- Hand sanitizer is available as you enter the church.
- When receiving Holy Communion, please remember to stay socially distanced. We encourage you to receive Holy Communion in your hand, but if you wish to receive on the tongue, you are asked to be at the end of the Communion line. There will be no Cup distributed at this time.
- As you leave the church, please do not gather in the Gathering Space or parking lot.

Since we are returning to Mass, we will no longer tape Mass at Holy Cross for viewing on youtube. If you still do not feel comfortable attending any of the Masses offered, you can still view the Diocesan Mass (youtube.com/DiocesefofWilm) or other video Masses offered on youtube or the television.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Was it the same? No, but it was darn close! I know the old saying close only counts when playing horseshoes (does anyone play that anymore?), but last Tuesday close was good enough for me!

I have always taken great pride in our eighth grade graduation Masses. The whole event is filled with grace, dignity, and reverence. It's a culmination, and it's a celebration.

We had to schedule ours a little bit later this year for obvious reasons, we had to work within some restrictions for obvious reasons, and we had to make some concessions, for obvious reasons. But we didn't make any sacrifices. Thanks to the forty three graduates, the evening was filled with grace, dignity, and reverence; just as it always has been.

We listened to the words of Scripture, but we couldn't have a student lector, we listened to lovely music (heartfelt thanks to Mr. Michael Perza and Mrs. Swartzentruber), but we had no choir, sadly, there was no exchange of peace between the graduates prior to going their separate ways. But, by God's goodness and mercy, the graduates were able to receive the Eucharist as a class and as friends one last time. There was creative seating, and there were masks.

Despite it all, there was grace, dignity, and reverence.

Bittersweet was the word I used to describe the evening's events. Bittersweet moments are often on the heavy side with the "bitter" part. Bitter for some in that they leave behind a school where they have found a home, and where they have achieved much. The sweetness often comes later when we have the chance to recall and harken back to the goodness and richness of our experience.

We had to combine our Awards Ceremony with the Conferral of Diplomas. It was different, but it worked. The achievements of our graduates are too numerous to list on this page; and what a happy problem that is! I would like, however, to highlight the students on who were bestowed higher awards of distinction.

THE HOLY CROSS AWARD:

Holy Cross School educates the whole person: academically; physically; socially; morally; and spiritually. THE HOLY CROSS AWARD is given to three students who have modelled exemplary behavior as a Christian student and have been a witness of God's love for others.

THE HOLY CROSS AWARD is presented to:

Miss Julia Novack

Mr. Jake Moyer

Mr. Brendan Knox

THE REVEREND FATHER THOMAS HANLEY AWARD:

What is perseverance? It is persistent determination. Perseverance is the foundation of great achievers. The greatest achievers do not simply sit back and wait for success to come to them, rather they keep moving forward because they are determined. When we persevere there is nothing that can stop us.

THE REVEREND FATHER THOMAS HANLEY AWARD is presented to the student who has shown great perseverance, determination and growth in their academics and socially during their time at Holy Cross.

THE REVEREND FATHER THOMAS HANLEY AWARD is presented to:

Mr. Christopher Jamison

THE A. REBECCA TATMAN AWARD:

The A. REBECCA TATMAN AWARD is given to students who exemplify the true meaning of a Christian athlete. They participate and give their best while also showing sportsmanship and compassion to their fellow teammates and coach as well as to the opposing team's players and coaches.

The A. REBECCA TATMAN AWARD is presented to:

Miss Ashtyn Torbert

Mr. Alexander Szell

OVERALL EXCELLENCE IN MUSIC:

OVERALL EXCELLENCE IN MUSIC is awarded to a student who has achieved excellence in both instrumental and choral music through self-discipline, leadership, focus and dedication.

The OVERALL EXCELLENCE IN MUSIC award is presented to:

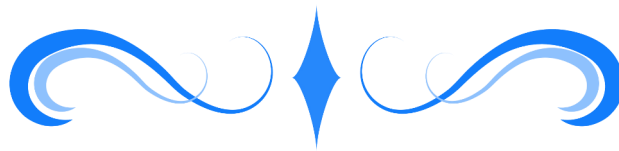

Miss Julia Novack

Congratulations to all of our wonderful students!

The bittersweetness of the evening prevailed as we bid farewell to two long time and highly respected educators. Mr. Daniel Jones and Mrs. Patricia McDermott are leaving behind a school where they have found a home, and where they have achieved much. The sweetness often comes later when we have the chance to recall and harken back to the goodness and richness of our experience. Mr. Jones and Mrs. McDermott have faithfully shared God's love, not only with their words, but also with their lives. They have made an impact on young minds and a difference in countless lives because they allowed God's light to shine through them. We are all better people because we were blessed to have called them colleagues. May God bless both in their much deserved retirement.

Saying farewell to a friend is never easy. Heavy hearts and tears of sadness mark the departure of one who we have grown to love because he has loved us. Father Etim has become such a great friend to our school. His frequent presence in the classroom is truly a highlight of the day. Students of all grades and ages love him. He knows them each by name, and he could be found everywhere. The cafeteria, the recess field kicking around the soccer ball, coaching soccer after school, he was the celebrant for every single one of our Wednesday masses, he brought such light to our Pick-Up Day; (which could have been a pretty melancholy event) and we were all so grateful for his enthusiasm and spirit on "Sign Saturday." And, oh my gosh; we won't ever forget his infectious laugh!

We have always been so thankful for his tender understanding of the students who needed a shoulder or a sounding board, and the generous gift of his time. Father Etim's compassion for the members of his flock is indeed remarkable. He teaches, he counsels, and his friendship comes from his heart. Sadly, as he leaves this flock behind, he takes a piece of our heart with him. Holy Cross School will indeed miss Father Etim. We bid him a fond and heartfelt farewell because it's way too hard to say good-bye to our good friend.
